SUITS, TROUSERS, RAINCOATS AND TOP COATS

When the Clock Strikes "9" Thursday, April 22nd, 1915

Bridgeport, Conn., will see the most extraordinary Sheriff Sale ever attempted here or elsewhere. For this reason, if business conditions were good this sale would not have taken place, and coming at this time of the year makes it our loss and your gain, however, we feel that the public of Bridgeport and vicinity will appreciate these great values of buying unquestionably the grandest lot of Men's and Youths' high grade Spring and Summer Clothing ever placed on sale at this time of the year at these ridiculous prices. Hurley's clothing stock comprises the most famous makes. The stock bought this season was larger and better selected than ever, but business conditions prevented the Hurley Clothing Co. from paying their bills on time which caused the creditors to place this store in the hands of the Sheriff, while this sale is for the benefit of the creditors, Mr. Wm. R. Hurley will be in attendance to watch his and the company's interests, but the sale will be conducted by the Sheriff by order of the creditors who are ready to lose and wind things up.

RUBE MARQUARD TO BE 26 YEARS OF AGE TOMORROW

Although the Germans are very prevalent in America's national pastime, and a club of picked Teutons could probably put up a mighty good argument against the best that the Irish, English, French and other allies could get together, the supporters of the Triple Entente can still find more or less consolation in the possession of M. Richard de Marquis, known in our set as Rube Marquard. Richard is of French descent. The elongated Rube will be twenty-six years old tomorrow, having been born in Cleveland on the twenty-second of April, 1889.

And now permit us to lift the curtain from a deep and dark conspiracy. Richard de Marquis first appeared in the box score of a professional game back in 1907, when, at the tender age of eighteen, he donned the uniform of the Canton, Ohio, Central league club. Richard, inspired by the doughty deeds of his great countryman and fellow citizen, Napoleon Bonaparte, had decided when only fifteen to shine as a ball player. In Canton the lengthy lad did so well that he was taken over by the Indianapolis American Association club in 1908. It is there that the conspiracy begins.

The Hoosier capital had among its inmates a large percentage of Germans, and one of these was the baseball reporter on a local paper. Seeing in Richard de Marquis a descendant of that hated people, the French, what did this crass and vulgar fellow do but turn the aristocratic and high-sounding Richard de Marquis into the us or not—declare if you will that the thing is unthinkable—but that is exactly what the writer chap did. And ever since Richard de Marquis has been Rube Marquard with such other addenda and perflage as has occurred from time to time to the ingenuity of the guys that tell us, in language more or less opaque, who won the game and why.

In 1909 President Brush paid Indianapolis $11,000 for Marquard. The Rube, who had performed such valorous deeds as a Hoosier, had nothing but his size to commend him as a giant, and the Gotham fans, in uniform, cried "Stung!" During the first two seasons in fast company Rube annexed only nine victories, each winning game costing the Giants well over a thousand dollars.

McGraw was not discouraged, however, and, under the careful coaching of Wilbert Robinson, new manager of the Superbas and then Giant coach, Marquard ceased to be the "$11,000 Lemon" and developed stellar talent. His subsequent career has been just one thing after another. In 1912 he tied Tin O'Keefe's record by winning thirteen straight games. Last year he capped the book by losing.

a dozen straight contests, but redeemed himself somewhat by pitching the Giants to victory in the twenty-one inning game at Pittsburgh, establishing a National league record.

The Giant Southpaw has also distinguished himself in other ways. He drew the coop with Blossom Seelye, an actress, overlooking the fact that she already had a lawful wedded spouse, and married her after the aggrieved husband got a divorce and a part of the Rube's bankroll. Also, he jumped to the Reds and turned around and jumped right back again, a stunt which just couldn't be kept out of the papers, much as Rube detests notoriety.

ED GEERS, VETERAN TRAINER, GOES ON OPERATING TABLE

Boston, April 21.—The veteran trainer, Ed Geers, is in a hospital in Memphis, Tenn., after an operation for gastritis. Although the noted rehusman is 64 years old it is thought that he will be able to resume his duties in the sultry in a month or six weeks.

In the meantime the stable will be in charge of John Benyon.

The larger part of the horses in Mr. Geers' stable are the property of Frank G. Jones, who has in the past driven many of them in races, and in the event that Geers' recovery is not as rapid as is hoped, it is quite likely that Mr. Jones may be seen behind the champion four-year-old stallion, Etawah, 2:02 1-4, and other cracks of the stable.

In this connection it may be said that there appears to be no chance of a race between Etawah and Lee Axworthy, 2:03, at least as early as the Cleveland meeting. As a matter of fact Mr. Jones has already declined the issue, stating that "Etawah is in the stud at Castleton Farm and not in the racing game."

ANNIVERSARIES OF BING BATTLES

1890—"Australian Billy" Murphy outpointed Tommy White in 4 rounds at Chicago. Murphy, a New Zealand-er by birth, was then at his best, having recently won the featherweight championship and diamond belt by knocking out Ike Weir at San Francisco. Murphy's career as a champion was brief, and it was generally held that his victory over the "Bel-fast Spider" was an accident due to Ike's carelessness. Tommy White, although he never achieved the championship, was one of the best featherweights who ever wore a glove. The Chicago lad who was known as "The Board of Trade Pet," fought many long bouts. His first contest, with Tommy Morgan, went 4 rounds to a draw. He lost to George Siddons, "The Iron Man," in 41 rounds, and in 1891 fought a 41-round draw with Danny Daly. In 1892 he met Murphy again, and held him to a draw in 32 rounds and about the same time he fought draws with Ike Weir and Young Griffo. In 1895 White fought Murphy a third time and held him even in 20 rounds. He fought a 25-round draw with Solly Smith the same year and later became champion, and knocked out Jack Sully. In 1898 he fought long draws with George Dixon and Solly Smith, but lost to Dixon at Denver in 1899 and was defeated by Terry McGovern the following year.

1905—Aurelio Herrera defeated Tommy Daly in 15-rounds at Baltimore.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The social given last evening by Miss Patty Flint, violinist of Boston, at the Sanford homestead, was attended by a gathering of representative people of the city. Among the guests were Miss Carolyn Bloodgood, soprano, also of Boston, and Ellsworth Grumman, pianist, of this city, all of whom were received with much enthusiasm and appreciation. The list of patronesses for the affair included many prominent people of the vicinity.

Some 35 members of the Universalist women's club enjoyed the annual luncheon of that organization held yesterday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. J. W. Knowlton, Chapel street. Mrs. J. H. Orton was toastmistress. Officers were unanimously re-elected. Mrs. Knowlton is president, Mrs. A. V. Hartley, vice-president, Mrs. Ward Van Ness, secretary, and Mrs. F. J. Hughes, treasurer. The officers with Mrs. F. M. Hammon, Mrs. G. W. Jackson and Mrs. Fred Tracy compose the executive board.

Friends of Mrs. A. W. Mosher of 81 Pleasant street, who underwent a serious operation on Saturday at the Bridgeport hospital, will be pleased to learn that she is getting along nicely and expects to be home within a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Naramore of 68 Rose street, welcomed a son on Monday at the Bridgeport hospital. Mrs. Naramore, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Cogill of 419 Mill Hill avenue, was Miss Pearl Cogill before her marriage. Mr. Naramore is a mechanical engineer with the U. M. C. company while Mr. Cogill is president of the Cogill & McKenzie Machine company.

COUNTY A. O. H. TO WELCOME NATIONAL PRESIDENT SUNDAY

Elaborate Plans Made to Give Memorable Reception to Joseph McLaughlin

Members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in this city and Fairfield County are planning for an elaborate reception Sunday afternoon upon the occasion of the visit of the National President of the Order, Hon. Joseph McLaughlin of Philadelphia, and the National Secretary, Hon. Philip J. Sullivan of Thompsonville, Conn. This is the first time in the history of the order that the National President has visited the local organizations. He is making a trip through the east and has arranged for three stops in the largest cities of Connecticut, Bridgeport, New Haven and Hartford. During the afternoon he will address a mass meeting of Hibernians at Eagles' Hall.

President McLaughlin and Secretary Sullivan will arrive in Bridgeport about 11:30 o'clock and will be met at the railroad station by a reception committee composed of President D. J. O'Connor, Fenton P. Dunn, Thomas J. Coleman, Joseph P. Onkey, Patrick Donahue, John J. O'Neill, Jeremiah Sullivan, John F. McCarthy, Jas. Whalen and Col. T. J. Murphy of this city and County President Andrew Conniff of Danbury. Automobiles will be provided and the visitors taken for a trip of about an hour through the more interesting parts of the city and afterward they will be entertained at lunch at the Stratfield.

The afternoon meeting will be held at Eagles' Hall at 2:30 o'clock. Thos. M. Gullinan of this city presiding over the meeting. All Hibernians in the city and county are invited to be present, including the members of the two Ladies' Auxiliaries and large delegations are expected from Danbury, Greenwich, South Norwalk, Stamford, and Stratford.

Plans have been made for a pleasing entertainment including songs by John Martin and George Rajotte, Miss Arline Malley, and Miss Katherine Lombard, and later refreshments will be served. Addresses will be made by President McLaughlin, Secretary Sullivan, County President Conniff, Rev. J. B. Nihil, County Chaplain, Rev. T. J. Pickett, and others. President McLaughlin has a special message for the Hibernians of Fairfield County.

In addition to the guests mentioned it is expected there will be a large number of the Catholic clergymen of the order. Every member of the order in the city is expected to be present at the meeting in the afternoon to greet the National President and to show him that the organization in this city is very much alive and interested in its progress.

Following the meeting in this city, President McLaughlin will go to New Haven where he will speak to the members of the order in that city during the evening, and Monday evening he will address the Hibernians of Hartford.

Y. M. C. A. CHORUS WILL HAVE MINSTREL SHOW

After two good, solid weeks of snappy, persistent practice, the boys of the Y. M. C. A. have organized a chorus of fifteen, who will display their talents in their big show, entitled, "1915" to be given in Warner Hall on Thursday and Friday evenings, April 23 and 24.

Some of the principal characters are: W. Bernhardt, interlocutor; F. Kirschner, L. Lebeenthal, E. Price and C. Steinmetz, epd-men; A. Levery, L. Hilsinger, clowns; P. Hart and Wallace Kamons, principal singers; G. Mosel, W. Standen, R. Ballard, M. Anderson, G. O'Neill, J. Flynn, L. Gully, and C. Hurlburt, chief actors in the play.

John Jucks, a gardener of Trenton, N. J., committed suicide by hanging, fearing he would go mad as a result of being bitten by a dog several days ago.

Secretary Daniels designated Miss Esther Ross of Prescott, Ariz., as sponsor for the dreadnought Arizona, to be launched at the New York navy yard, June 15.

Germany has subscribed $500,000 monthly to the international commission for the relief of starving non-combatants in Poland, it was announced in Berlin.

Senator Brown announced that the New York legislature will probably quit Saturday noon, to give members time to get home Saturday night or Sunday.
